This Week We Offer A Special Prayer For...

Those Experiencing Loneliness

Dear God, I know that You are close to the brokenhearted and You are the God who heals and comforts.

I pray for those who are still battling loneliness from losing their loved ones.

Heal the wounds of their hearts and renew their strength and spirit.

Bring them peace and hope, Lord.

Let them be reminded of Your unfailing love that never leaves us.

You are always watching over us, and I pray that Your presence in our lives overpowers any loneliness we may feel.

With You, we are never alone, and may those whose hearts are overcome with grief be reminded of that every day.

We lift this prayer up to You, Lord. Amen.

World Day of the Poor 2022

A few moments before his Wednesday General Audience, Pope Francis unveiled a new sculpture in St. Peter's Square dedicated to the homeless. It's a life-size bronze statue titled Sheltering by Canadian artist Timothy Schmalz, known especially for his "Angels Unawares" sculpture of migrants and refugees installed in a corner of the square. The new sculpture depicts a homeless person being covered by a blanket pulled over him by a flying dove.

The Vincentian Family "13 Houses Campaign"

It was conceived to shine a spotlight on global homelessness and encourage practical solutions in keeping with the mission of the "13 Houses Campaign", an initiative of the Homeless Alliance of the Vincentian Family (FHA) that gathers religious congregations, lay associations and charities inspired by the life and work of St. Vincent de Paul. Through the campaign, the Alliance seeks to house 10,000 people worldwide, by the end of 2023 in more than 160 countries where the Vincentian Family already works, as part of a more ambitious plan to change the lives of many 1.2 billion people who are currently homeless around the world.

Today is the 6th World Day of the Poor. The Day was established by Pope Francis 2016 to celebrate the end of the Extraordinary Jubilee of Mercy. Since 2017 it has been celebrated every year on the 33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time.

Life Lessons

In the middle of a sermon, a man in the congregation got up and walked outside.

His wife went running up to the priest after Mass to apologise for her husband's rude behavior.

The priest thanked her for the apology and said he had noticed her husband's strange behavior and was worried he had said something offensive or if there was a family emergency he should offer prayer for.

The wife replied, "Oh, no, Father. Not at all! You see, my husband has always had a problem with sleepwalking."

The poverty that kills is squalor, the daughter of injustice, exploitation, violence and the unjust distribution of resources. It is a hopeless and implacable poverty, imposed by the throwaway culture that offers neither future prospects nor avenues of escape. It is a squalor that not only reduces people to extreme material poverty, but also corrodes the spiritual dimension, which, albeit often overlooked, is nonetheless still there and still important. When the only law is the bottom line of profit at the end of the day, nothing holds us back from seeing others simply as objects to be exploited; other people are merely a means to an end. There no longer exist such things as a just salary or just working hours, and new forms of slavery emerge and entrap persons who lack alternatives and are forced to accept this toxic injustice simply to eke out a living.
